About PRoject Green

Mission

PRoject Green is a website with the purpose of communicating the environmental problems that the island of Puerto Rico faces. These range from deforestation, to climate change, to energy crises, and environmental justice. This website will serve as an educational experience on the different environmental issues on the island and as a call to action towards sustainable practices and environmental protection. The environment and sustainability is a topic that I'm personally interested in because we are currently in the midst of a climate crisis. As an information systems major and an Environmental and Sustainability Studies minor, this would be a great way to combine technology and the environment and educate others.

About the Developer

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Praesent pharetra laoreet neque. Vestibulum ante ipsum primis in faucibus orci luctus et ultrices posuere cubilia curae; Proin porta metus quam, ut faucibus elit molestie sit amet. In lobortis urna ligula, bibendum suscipit massa maximus at.